LOW WATER MARK

It Was Reached In Railroad Construction Last Year.

ROADS SOLD BY THE COURTS

Steady Improvement In Earnings During Last Six Months—Government Ownership Would Be a Dangerous Experiment—Greater Indianapolis Postal Facilities—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—General Wade Hampton, who has just been succeeded by General Longstreet as commissioner of railroads, has submitted to the interior department his report for the past fiscal year. He says that the year marked the low water mark of railway construction. During the year 34 companies, with 5,441 miles of road, passed into the hands of the courts and 58 others, previously placed in receivership, were sold at foreclosure.

A steady improvement in railroad earnings during the first six months of the current year is noted, an improvement particularly apparent in the bond-aided Pacific railroads. The outlook in the west generally for the present year is reported very encouraging.

General Hampton, though discounting any attempt to criticize the course of the government in the Union Pacific matter, says he has always believed that a settlement more advantageous to the government could be obtained if all the companies—particularly the Union and Central Pacific—could be negotiated with at the same time through a commission to be appointed by the president and possibly all in the same way, than by settling at different times and on a different basis. Government ownership or operating under government supervision, he says, would be not only a doubtful but a dangerous experiment which would probably result disastrously to the government.

Four or five postoffices will give place to postoffice stations and substations.

Bonds In the Sinking Fund.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The Union Pacific reorganization committee has arranged with the treasury department for the transfer to them of the bonds in the sinking fund and the cash payment thereon on Nov. 22. These bonds, which were purchased at their face value by the committee at the time of the sale of the road amount to $13,645,250, and this amount in cash, which will be covered into the treasury, will increase the available cash balance to approximately $18,500,000. The available balance in the treasury yesterday, exclusive of gold, was $50,001,861.

REV. JOSEPH C. HARTSELL.

Speaks at a Banquet of the Civilization of Rhodesia.

BULUTAYO, Matabeleland, Nov. 10.—At a banquet held here Rev. Joseph C. Hartsell of Cincinnati, Methodist Episcopal bishop for West Africa, referring to the charges made in the radical newspapers of London concerning the ill-treatment of the natives by the Rhodesians, said the rights of men along the Thames would be insecure unless those of the poorest natives of Africa were safeguarded. The bishop added that he had been deeply impressed with the civilization of Rhodesia, and he said that he trusted the stars and stripes and the union jack would combine in defense of human rights.

INSURANCE DECISION.

Company's Peculiar Plea For Not Paying a Benefit.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 10.—In the Sangamon circuit court Judge Creighton has rendered an interesting decision in an insurance case. Eliza Nillaban sued the Equitable Mutual Life Insurance company of Watertown, Ia., for $3,000. The defendant pleaded it was not licensed to do business in Illinois and that it had no power to enter into contract with the insured. Judge Creighton sustained the demurrer to this plea, holding that noncompliance with the insurance laws of the state was no ground for defendant to avoid its own contracts.

MRS. NACK CONFESSES.

Her Attorney Makes the Statement, but Refused Details.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Herald today says: "Emmanuel Friend, counsel for Mrs. Augusta Nack, was at the Harlem opera-house last night. He was extremely nervous, which caused some comment. He said he had just come from a long interview with his client. 'Mrs. Nack has confessed. That is all I can say. She has confessed and will go on the stand today against Thorn. I cannot talk about the matter any further. I have made a solemn promise of secrecy. There is no use of trying to see me later. There is no use trying to see anyone else. Even Mr. Howe does not know. The few others who do know are pledged to secrecy, as I am. I shall go home, disconnect my telephone and refuse to see anyone or answer any questions. Mrs. Nack has made a full confession—that's all I can say.'"

The story that Mrs. Nack has told and that she will be called upon to repeat to the jury is full of dramatic interest. She has described at great length her life with Goldensuppe in the little flat on Ninth avenue near Thirty-fourth street. She quarreled with him frequently after Thorn appeared upon the scene. Goldensuppe was violent and abusive and to rid themselves of him she and Thorn determined to kill him. She induced him to go to Woodside to inspect a cottage which she had hired. She sent him up stairs alone and when she heard shots she knew that Thorn had carried out his promise.

GREAT MISFORTUNE

Spain Would Regard War With the United States as Such.

THE VATICAN TAKES A HAND

Queen Regent Receives Threatening Letters From Carlists—Blanco Instructs Military Commanders to Encourage the Grinding of Cane—Gomez Endeavoring to Concentrate His Forces at Remedios.

MADRID, Nov. 10.—In response to a cable message from a nonofficial American source, Senor Sagasta, the premier, has sent the following cable declaration through Senor DuPay De Lome, the Spanish minister at Washington:

So far from seeking a pretext to declare war against the United States Spain would regard it as a great misfortune to be given the occasion for such an unhappy resolution.

Animated as she is by the amicable sentiments toward the great republic, Spain hopes of America that the latter will do its utmost to fortify sentiments of friendship for the sake and welfare of both countries, while at the same time respecting the rights of Spain.

The papal nuncio at Madrid has been recalled to Rome by the vatican and instructed to exhort the clergy and people of Spain to do their utmost to support the present dynasty. News has reached the vatican that the situation in Spain is extremely grave.

Carlism is imminent in the principal towns of Spain and the queen regent is continually receiving menacing letters from the Carlists. It is understood that Spain's situation is the subject of negotiations between the European cabinets.

GOMEZ AND BLANCO.

One Trying To Concentrate Troops, the Other Encouraging Cane Grinding.

HAVANA, Nov. 10.—It is semi-officially announced that General Maximo Gomez has been attempting to concentrate the insurgent forces near Remedios, the principal port of the province of Santa Clara, and it is added that he was engaged by a Spanish force with the result that insurgents left nine men killed on the field.

Captain General Blanco has issued a circular to the Spanish military commanders in the different provinces of Cuba instructing them to favor the owners of sugar estates by all means in their power and to encourage those who may be less disposed than others to grind their cane. The captain-general is desirous that sugarcane grinding should proceed on a large scale.

Report Denied.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—At the Cuban headquarters here the report that General Gomez had ordered General Julio Saugally to report for duty in the insurgent ranks in Cuba, is definitely denied.

CALLED ON TANNER.

Illinois Miners Talk With the Governor Regarding Importation of Chinese.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 10.—A delegation of miners' officials, headed by President Cartwright of the Springfield subdistrict, waited on Governor Tanner yesterday in regard to the rumored importation of a large body of Chinese miners into the Braidwood field. The governor expressed his sympathy with the white miners and said that while he could not restrict the importation of the Chinese miners, he would not permit them to enter the state bearing arms, nor would he permit the presence at the mines of the reported large bodies of armed ex-Chicago policemen acting as guards to the Chinese.

TIME TO EXPLAIN.
Upon the representations of the representatives of the Grand Army of the Republic, through a committee of which Judge Marsh is chairman, the State Board of Education made a contract with the publishers of "Montgomery's School History" to have some of the grossest errors left out and other statements of fact inserted. When the book was printed and accepted it was found that not half of the corrections promised had been made. The shortcomings were discovered some time ago and caused much indignation at the State Encampment. Thus far the Board of Education has made no public explanation for failure to have its contract carried out. It might be well to make one.—Journal.

On the 7th day of November, 1837, Elijah P. Lovejoy was murdered at Alton, Ill., by a proslavery mob. They had previously destroyed his printing office, then broke up a second press he had purchased, and killed him when he was defending a third one. For many years his grave was unmarked, then a small stone was put up by a friend to mark his resting place and now, on Monday, Nov. 8, 1897, just 60 years after his martyrdom a splendid monument was erected to his memory. Sometimes the world moves slowly, but it moves.—New Albany Tribune.

WERE MASSACRED.
Soldiers, Surrounded by Burning Grass, Shot Down by Tribesmen.
SIMLA, Nov. 10.—The report that a native officer and 35 Sikhs, belonging to the Kurram column, had been intercepted by tribesmen in a ravine and slaughtered, is officially confirmed. It appears that they were assisting in a reconnaissance up the Kurram river. Taking a short cut down hill, they came to a ravine where the grass of the jungle was burning. The flames spread so rapidly as to completely cut off their retreat, and the tribesmen, seeing their predicament, swarmed on the higher ground, hurled rocks upon them and closed round the men until the whole 36 were shot or cut down. The Sikhs fought heroically until the very last, their officer killing two rebel chiefs with his own hands before he fell.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.
Farmer Becomes Deranged and Shoots Himself and Wife.
PINEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 10.—Andrew Vaughn, a prominent farmer, living on Clear creek in this county, shot himself and his wife. Neighbors passing the house yesterday noticed no one about the place and knowing Vaughn had been in ill-health called for him. They were answered by mops from the inside. On going in they found Vaughn's wife weltering in her life blood and Vaughn in a dying condition. Both will die. It is supposed Vaughn became mentally unbalanced, and while in this state shot his wife and then himself.

John P. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Vibrant & single exception, there is no doubt no greater or more interesting newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; or a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John P. McLean. The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, with a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as in those of greater magnitude.

PLAYING TWO PARTS.

INSTANCES IN WHICH AN ACTOR HAS BEEN TWO MEN AT ONCE.

The "Prisoner of Zenda," "Corsican Brothers" and the "Lyons Mail" are 1 plays in which it is necessary for the star to make these quick changes.

To be able to play two parts in the same piece, to portray, perhaps two characters of totally different caliber—is not an undertaking which many actors care to attempt. It is only the experienced artist who may attempt the feat with impunity, and even then, though he may appear to the audience to achieve his end without an effort, there are many more difficulties in his path than meet the eye of the habitual theater goer.

Not only must the actor be possessed of no small amount of histrionic talent, but he must often call in the aid of an understudy, whose duty it is to gull the onlooker into the belief that their favorite is performing the impossible feat of being in two places at one and the same time. For in nearly every play of such a character it is well nigh impossible for the actor to arrange his piece that the actor may never be called upon to be on the stage with his double.

Any one who has been to see "The Prisoner of Zenda" performed at the St. James theater, must have marveled at the lightning celerity with which Mr. George Alexander, a moment before the drunken king of Ruritania, suddenly, as by some act of witchcraft, reappeared as Rudolf Rassendyll, clad in the ordinary costume of the English tourist. Then, to every one's surprise, the supine body of the king was carried in so that to all appearances Mr. Alexander was gazing upon his own person. In reality, of course, it was merely a lightning change, and the understudy had to be requisitioned to supply the person of the king.

A more famous case of double impersonation, however, is that of "The Corsican Brothers," the first play perhaps in which Sir Henry Irving gave us a taste of his wonderful talent.

In the first act—to give a slight resume of the play—the ghost of Louis, killed in a duel by a certain Chateau Renaud in the forest of Fontainebleau, appears to Fabien, his brother. The second act takes us to Paris, and through varied incident to the death of Louis. Here Irving was Louis.

In the third act, however, it is Fabien who is once more before us, who has constituted himself the avenger of his brother's death. He meets Chateau Renaud and demands satisfaction. Renaud is worsted and falls to the ground. Then suddenly the ghost of Louis appears, and, to personate the spirit of the dead man, Irving had had to fly to the wings, make his way below the stage and take his stand upon the trap, which conveyed him upward to the gaze of the thrilled spectators.

How was it done? The audience was amazed. Yet the explanation is comparatively simple: Irving stepped behind a "property" tree. His "double" instantly filled his place, taking good care not to face the audience when it was necessary for him to confront the ghost. Hence the lightning change from mortal to spirit and the resultant bewilderment of the beholders.

Neither is the "Corsican Brothers" the only play in which Irving has contrived to take a double part and yet nonplus the audience by the adroitness of his metamorphosis.

Those who are familiar with the "Lyons Mail" will doubtless remember the most telling scene in the play. Here Dubosc, the murderer, is in an attic, gazing down upon the preparations being made for the execution of the innocent Lesurques—whose likeness to the real murderer has brought him to such a terrible pass—an expression of horrible gloom upon his face, clapping his hands as he sees the apparently doomed man step forward to his death.

But his exultation is premature. Lesurques is relieved, and the crowd suddenly catches sight of the villainous face of the real murderer at the attic window. The door of the room is battered in. Behind it stands Dubosc. The wretch is dragged from his refuge, and as they do so Irving-Lesurques coolly walks in upon the scene of turmoil.

The door of the attic is made to open inward, thus shutting Irving Dubosc from view of the auditorium. In a moment he slips through a trap. His "double" takes his place, to be hustled unconsciously by the crowd of "supers," whose duty it is also to conceal the man's face in case the fraud should be discovered. Irving-Lesurques can then come on in his new role.

But an actor has been known to play two parts without the assistance of a dummy.

In a certain play it was the duty of the hero to leap out of the window of his room and to enter from a door on the opposite side of the stage clad in different clothes, though otherwise the same.

This, however, was juggling pure and simple. The actor dropped into his second dress in much the same way as an American fireman is reputed to jump into his uniform. The costume consisted of but one piece with a patent fastening down the back, and as he leaped through the window frame he leaped into his clothes, which, so to speak, shut behind him and left him rehabilitated.

Neither is the part of the understudy one to be given to any ordinary "super" from the mass of warriors, countrymen and the like that go to make up a stage crowd. He must be possessed of no slight amount of adaptability and smartness to enable his principal to go through his arduous task without a hitch.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Students Helped Their Teachers In Practical Work.

During the last century in America the medical education of a young student was generally what he picked up by serving as an apprentice to some noted practitioner, which combined the duties of a student with many menial affairs.

He ground the powders, mixed the pills, rode with the doctor on his rounds, held the basin when the patient was bled, helped to adjust the plasters, sew the wounds and run with vials of medicine from one end of town to the other. It was a white day when such a young man enjoyed the rare good fortune of dissecting a half patrid arm. So great indeed was the difficulty of obtaining anatomical subjects that the medical school of Harvard college made a single body do duty for a whole year.

Under such circumstances the doctor's knowledge was practical, and derived from personal experience rather than from books. The advantages of study were sparingly enjoyed. Few physicians boasted of a library of 50 volumes.

His apprenticeship ended, the student returned to his native town to assume the practice of medicine. At that period, with the exception of the minister and the judge, the doctor was the most important personage in his community. His general face, his engaging manners, the sincerity with which he inquired after the carpenter's daughter and the interest which he took in the family of the poorest laborer made him the favorite for miles around. He knew the names and personal history of the occupants of every house he passed. The farmer's lads pulled off their hats to him and the girls dropped courtesies as he passed. Sunshine and rain, daylight and darkness, were alike to him. He would ride ten miles in the darkest night over the worst of roads in a pelting storm to administer a dose of calomel to an old woman or attend a child in a fit.

The drugs were stowed away on the shelves of the village store, among heaps of shoes, Roman hats, packages of seeds and fitches of bacon.

The physician was compelled to compound his own drugs, make his own tinctures and put up his own prescriptions. His saddlebag was the only drug store within 40 miles. Each spring the blood must be purified, the kidneys excited and the damsel who fainted profusely bled. Large doses of sunn and manna and rhubarb and molasses were taken daily. It was safe to say that more medicine was taken every year by the well than is now taken by the sick in the same time.

Water was denied the patient tormented with fever. In its stead was given a small quantity of clam juice. Mercury was taken until the lips turned blue and the gums fell away from the teeth.

The writer has a vivid recollection, when about 8 years old, in a raging fever, pleading for water. The nurse handed the pitcher, and the child satisfied her burning thirst. Her brother, overhearing what was going on, rushed into the room, exclaiming, "You will kill her," but it was too late.—American Magazine.

FIRST WHITE HOUSE BATH.

Van Buren Was Criticized For Introducing the Tub Into the Mansion.

In an article on "The Domestic Side of the White House," in the Ladies' Home Journal, ex-President Harrison gives this interesting view of the home portion of the executive mansion: "Propriety speaking," he says, "there are five bedrooms in the executive mansion, though by the use of two dressing rooms and of the end of a short hall that formerly opened to a large north window, but has now been closed up to make a small bedroom, the number may be increased to eight. There are no suitable servants' quarters. Those provided are in the basement, and only those opening to the south are habitable. The north rooms open upon a damp brick arena and are unhealthy. One of the basement rooms, having a southern exposure, is fitted up as a billiard room, but very plainly.

"It is said that provision for a library for the White House was first made during Mr. Fillmore's term. Neat cases are arranged about the room, and most of them are filled with books—old editions of historical and classical works. There is no catalogue, and the library has not been kept up.

"President Adams introduced billiards into the White House, purchasing the first table, balls and cues at a cost of $41, paying for them out of his own pocket. President Van Buren was charged by a political adversary and searching critic as being the first of our presidents to discover that the pleasures of the warm or tepid bath are the proper accompaniments of a palace life. For it appears that our former presidents were content with the application, when necessary, of the simple shower bath. Mr. Van Buren's critic then refers with high approval to the salutary side of Mr. Adams' heroic habit of bathing in the Potomac 'between daybreak and sunrise.'"

MURDERED BY A BOY.

United States District Attorney Shot Down at Carson, Nev.

CARSON, Nev., Nov. 10.—The entire state was startled and shocked at the murder last yesterday afternoon of Charles A. Jones, United States district attorney, by Julian Guinan, the 16-year-old son of a well known local physician.

The prominence of all connected with the affair, the attendant circumstances and the suddenness of the tragedy make it one of the most sensational happenings in the history of Nevada. Jones, who had a wife in Reno, when in this city would pay attention to Miss Guinan, notwithstanding he had been warned by Dr. Guinan to desist. Yesterday he was seen talking to the young lady again and her father met him and again warned him. Young Guinan saw the two men and noticing a motion by Jones as if to draw a gun, fired killing the attorney. When the coroner took charge Jones' hand was in his hip pocket, but there was no revolver on his person.

BAD CONDUCT OF TRUSTEES.

Ex-State Senator Caldwell of New York Arrested.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Former State Senator William Caldwell was arrested on the charge of appropriating funds of an estate for which he is trustee as he was entering his office in this city.

The complaint is made by Mrs. Mary J. Westfield and her sister, Flora E. Rogers, daughters of the late Jason Rogers, the millionaire locomotive builder of Paterson, N. J., who accuse Mr. Caldwell and their brother, Thomas Rogers, trustees of the will, of appropriating to their own use funds of the estate. Their removal is asked. Jason Rogers died in 1898, leaving an estate supposed to be worth over $2,000,000.

MODEST DEMAND.

John Zahn Demands $10,000 of the Governor of New Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 10.—John Zahn, a Pole, with his wife and five children, appeared at the statehouse here and demanded an audience of the governor.

He said he wanted $10,000 to take him to the state of Washington, where he and his family belonged. His demand was refused, but a subscription was taken up by a number of citizens, only to meet with a refusal from Zahn. A policeman was called and Zahn was arrested. The authorities afterward furnished transportation to Philadelphia for him and his family.

ROBBED THE POSTOFFICE.

Two Thieves Secured $300, Cut the Telephone Wires and Escaped.

MOCKESVILLE, N. C., Nov. 10.—The safe in the postoffice here was blown open and robbed of $300, half the amount being in money and the rest in stamps.

After committing the robbery the parties stole a lever car on the Mockesville railroad and rode it out near the Davis school, just west of Winston. The safeblowers cut the telephone wire in two places to prevent any message being sent out after them.

INSURANCE DECISION.
Company's Peculiar Plea For Not Paying a Benefit.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 10.—In the Sangamon circuit court Judge Creighton has rendered an interesting decision in an insurance case. Eliza Nillman sued the Equitable Mutual Life Insurance company of Waterbury, Ia., for $3,000. The defendant pleaded it was not licensed to do business in Illinois and that it had no power to enter into contract with the insured. Judge Creighton sustained the demurrer to this plea, holding that noncompliance with the insurance laws of the state was no ground for defendant to avoid its own contracts.

Steady Improvement In Earnings During Last Six Months—Government Ownership Would Be a Dangerous Experiment—Greater Indianapolis Postal Facilities—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—General Wade Hampton, who has just been succeeded by General Longstreet as commissioner of railroads, has submitted to the interior department his report for the past fiscal year. He says that the year marked the low water mark of railway construction. During the year 34 companies, with 5,441 miles of road, passed into the hands of the courts and 58 others, previously placed in receivership, were sold at foreclosure.

A steady improvement in railroad earnings during the first six months of the current year is noted, an improvement particularly apparent in the bond-aided Pacific railroads. The outlook in the west generally for the present year is reported very encouraging.

General Hampton, though discounting any attempt to criticize the course of the government in the Union Pacific matter, says he has always believed that a settlement more advantageous to the government could be obtained if all the companies—particularly the Union and Central Pacific—could be negotiated with at the same time through a commission to be appointed by the president and possibly all in the same way, than by settling at different times and on a different basis. Government ownership or operating under government supervision, he says, would be not only a doubtful but a dangerous experiment which would probably result disastrously to the government.

GREATER INDIANAPOLIS.
Four or Five Suburban Postoffices Will Give Place to Substations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Assistant Postmaster General Heath has made arrangements for the consolidation of postoffices in the vicinity of Indianapolis, in conformance with the greater Indianapolis plans. Fifteen additional carriers will be allowed and satisfactory clerk provisions will be made. Postoffice Inspector Fletcher will arrange for the new service if possible by Dec. 1. Four or five postoffices will give place to postoffice stations and substations.

Hartsell of Cincinnati, Methodist Episcopal bishop for West Africa, referring to the charges made in the radical newspapers of London concerning the ill-treatment of the natives by the Rhodesians, said the rights of men along the Thames would be insecure unless those of the poorest natives of Africa were safeguarded. The bishop added that he had been deeply impressed with the civilization of Rhodesia, and he said that he trusted the stars and stripes and the union jack would combine in defense of human rights.

KILLED HIS FRIEND.
Fatal Bullet Was Intended For a Troublesome Enemy.

BARSTOW, Ky., Nov. 10.—John Phillips, proprietor of the Old Tab saloon, shot and dangerously wounded George Bradshaw through mistake. Phillips took him to be William Stanley, with whom he had had trouble. Bradshaw playfully leveled an umbrella at Phillips just as he was opening his saloon door and the latter fired, the ball crashing through Bradshaw's temple. Phillips and Bradshaw were the warmest of friends.

Believed to Have Jumped Overboard.
DETROIT, Nov. 10.—John P. McKinon, formerly a wealthy lumberman of this city, disappeared from his stateroom on the steamer City of Alpena between Cheboygan and Port Huron. Some of McKinon's clothes were found in the deserted stateroom and it is thought that he jumped overboard. Family and finance troubles are given as the cause of the supposed suicide.

Brought $10,000 In Gold.

MRS. NACK CONFESSES.

Her Attorney Makes the Statement, but Refused Details.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Herald today says: "Emanuel Friend, counsel for Mrs. Augusta Nack, was at the Harlem opera-house last night. He was extremely nervous, which caused some comment. He said he had just come from a long interview with his client. 'Mrs. Nack has confessed. That is all I can say. She has confessed and will go on the stand today against Thorne. I cannot talk about the matter any further. I have made a solemn promise of secrecy. There is no use of trying to see me later. There is no use trying to see anyone else. Even Mr. Howe does not know. The few others who do know are pledged to secrecy, as I am. I shall go home, disconnect my telephone and refuse to see anyone or answer any questions. Mrs. Nack has made a full confession—that's all I can say.'"

The story that Mrs. Nack has told and that she will be called upon to repeat to the jury is full of dramatic interest. She has described at great length her life with Goldensuppe in the little flat on Ninth avenue near Thirty-fourth street. She quarreled with him frequently after Thorne appeared upon the scene. Goldensuppe was violent and abusive and to rid themselves of him she and Thorne determined to kill him. She induced him to go to Woodside to inspect a cottage which she had hired. She sent him up stairs alone and when she heard shots she knew that Thorne had carried out his promise.

GREAT MISFORTUNE

Spain Would Regard War With the United States as Such.

THE VATICAN TAKES A HAND

Queen Regent Receives Threatening Letters From Carlists—Blanco Instructs Military Commanders to Encourage the Grinding of Cane—Gomez Endeavoring to Concentrate His Forces at Remedios.

MADRID, Nov. 10.—In response to a cable message from a nonofficial American source, Senor Sagasta, the premier, has sent the following cable declaration through Senor DuPay De Lome, the Spanish minister at Washington:

So far from seeking a pretext to declare war against the United States Spain would regard it as a great misfortune to be given the occasion for such an unhappy resolution.

Animated as she is by the amicable sentiments toward the great republic, Spain hopes of America that the latter will do its utmost to fortify sentiments of friendship for the sake and welfare of both countries, while at the same time respecting the rights of Spain.

The papal nuncio at Madrid has been recalled to Rome by the vatican and instructed to exert the clergy and people of Spain to do their utmost to support the present dynasty. News has reached the vatican that the situation in Spain is extremely grave.

Carlism risings are imminent in the principal towns of Spain and the queen regent is continually receiving menacing letters from the Carlists. It is understood that Spain's situation is the subject of negotiations between the European cabinets.

GOMEZ AND BLANCO.

HAVANA, Nov. 10.—It is semi-officially announced that General Maximo Gomez has been attempting to concentrate the insurgent forces near Remedios, the principal port of the province of Santa Clara, and it is added that he was engaged by a Spanish force with the result that insurgents left nine men killed on the field.

Captain General Blanco has issued a circular to the Spanish military commanders in the different provinces of Cuba instructing them to favor the owners of sugar estates by all means in their power and to encourage those who may be less disposed than others to grind their cane. The captain-general is desirous that sugarcane grinding should proceed on a large scale.

Report Denied.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—At the Cuban headquarters here the report that General Gomez had ordered General Julio Saugally to report for duty in the insurgent ranks in Cuba, is definitely denied

MURDERED BY A BOY.

United States District Attorney Shot Down at Carson, Nev.

CARSON, Nev., Nov. 10.—The entire state was startled and shocked at the murder late yesterday afternoon of Charles A. Jones, United States district attorney, by Julian Guinan, the 16-year-old son of a well known local physician.

The prominence of all connected with the affair, the attendant circumstances and the suddenness of the tragedy make it one of the most sensational happenings in the history of Nevada. Jones, who had a wife in Reno, when in this city would pay attention to Miss Guinan, notwithstanding he had been warned by Dr. Guinan to desist. Yesterday he was seen talking to the young lady again and her father met him and again warned him. Young Guinan saw the two men and noticing a motion by Jones as if to draw a gun, fired killing the attorney. When the coroner took charge Jones' hand was in his hip pocket, but there was no revolver on his person.

BAD CONDUCT OF TRUSTEES.

Ex-State Senator Caldwell of New York Arrested.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Former State Senator William Caldwell was arrested on the charge of appropriating funds of an estate for which he is trustee as he was entering his office in this city.

The complaint is made by Mrs. Mary J. Westerfield and her sister, Flora E. Rogers, daughters of the late Jason Rogers, the millionaire locomotive builder of Paterson, N. J., who accuse Mr. Caldwell and their brother, Thomas Rogers, trustees of the will of appropriating to their own use funds of the estate. Their removal is asked. Jason Rogers died in 1898, leaving an estate supposed to be worth over $2,000,000.

He said he wanted $3,000 to take him to the state of Washington, where he and his family belonged. His demand was refused, but a subscription was taken up by a number of citizens, only to meet with a refusal from Zahn. A policeman was called and Zahn was arrested. The authorities afterward furnished transportation to Philadelphia for him and his family.

LOW WATER MARK

It Was Reached in Railroad Construction Last Year.

ROADS SOLD BY THE COURTS

Steady Improvement in Earnings During Last Six Months—Government Ownership Would Be a Dangerous Experiment—Greater Indianapolis Postal Facilities—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—General Wade Hampton, who has just been succeeded by General Longstreet as commissioner of railroads, has submitted to the interior department his report for the past fiscal year. He says that the year marked the low water mark of railway construction. During the year 34 companies, with 5,441 miles of road, passed into the hands of the courts and 58 others, previously placed in receivership, were sold at foreclosure.

A steady improvement in railroad earnings during the first six months of the current year is noted, an improvement particularly apparent in the bond-aided Pacific railroads. The outlook in the west generally for the present year is reported very encouraging.

General Hampton, though discounting any attempt to criticize the course of the government in the Union Pacific matter, says he has always believed that a settlement more advantageous to the government could be obtained if all the companies—particularly the Union and Central Pacific—could be negotiated with at the same time through a commission to be appointed by the president and possibly all in the same way, than by settling at different times and on a different basis. Government ownership or operating under government supervision, he says, would be not only a doubtful but a dangerous experiment which would probably result disastrously to the government.

GREATER INDIANAPOLIS.

Four or Five Suburban Postoffices Will Give Place to Substations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Assistant Postmaster General Heath has made arrangements for the consolidation of postoffices in the vicinity of Indianapolis, in conformance with the greater Indianapolis plans. Fifteen additional carriers will be allowed and satisfactory relief provisions will be made. Postoffice Inspector Fletcher will arrange for the new service if possible by Dec. 1. Four or five postoffices will give place to postoffice stations and substations.

Bonds In the Sinking Fund.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The Union Pacific reorganization committee has arranged with the treasury department for the transfer to them of the bonds in the sinking fund and the cash payment therefor on Nov. 22. These bonds, which were purchased at their face value by the committee at the time of the sale of the road amount to $13,645,250, and this amount in cash, which will be covered into the treasury, will increase the available cash balance to approximately $213,500,000. The available balance in the treasury yesterday, exclusive of gold, was $59,001,861.

Indiana Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Indiana postmasters have been appointed as follows: Carbondale, John F. Gudy; Castle, John T. Warren; Haven, William R. Roland; Ellettsburg, Edward Moore;—Worthy, Charles N. Bassett.

NATIONAL GRANGE.

Annual Session Opened at Harrisburg This Morning.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 10.—The National Grange, patrons of husbandry, met in annual session in the supreme court chamber in this city this morning and will continue in session about 10 days. The meetings are secret and are presided over by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Brigham. The National Grange is composed of 58 delegates and 16 officers, most of whom are present. This evening the sixth degree known as "Flora" will be conferred in the presence of the joint bodies. The seventh, or the "Assembly of Demeter" will be conferred tomorrow evening. The delegates to the state and national granges will visit the Gettysburg battlefield tomorrow.

REV. JOSEPH C. HARTSELL.

Speaks at a Banquet of the Civilization of Rhodesia.

BULUTAYO, Matabeleland, Nov. 10.—At a banquet held here Rev. Joseph C. Hartsell of Cincinnati, Methodist Episcopal bishop for West Africa, referring to the charges made in the radical newspapers of London concerning the ill-treatment of the natives by the Rhodesians, said the rights of men along the Thames would be insecure unless those of the poorest natives of Africa were safeguarded. The bishop added that he had been deeply impressed with the civilization of Rhodesia, and he said that he trusted the stars and stripes and the union jack would combine in defense of human rights.

INSURANCE DECISION.

Company's Peculiar Plan For Not Paying a Benefit.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Nov. 10.—In the Sangamon circuit court Judge Creighton has rendered an interesting decision in an insurance case. Eliza Nillahan sued the Equitable Mutual Life Insurance company of Waterbury, Ia., for $3,000. The defendant pleaded it was not licensed to do business in Illinois and that it had no power to enter into contract with the insured. Judge Creighton sustained the demurrer to this plea, holding that noncompliance with the insurance laws of the state was no ground for defendant to avoid its own contracts.

MRS. NACK CONFESSES.

Her Attorney Makes the Statement, but Refused Details.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Herald today says: "Emanuel Friend, counsel for Mrs. Augusta Nack, was at the Harlem opera-house last night. He was extremely nervous, which caused some comment. He said he had just come from a long interview with his client. 'Mrs. Nack has confessed. That is all I can say. She has confessed and will go on the stand today against Thorn. I cannot talk about the matter any further. I have made a solemn promise of secrecy. There is no use of trying to see anyone else. Even Mr. Howe does not know. The few others who do know are pledged to secrecy, as I am. I shall go home, disconnect my telephone and refuse to see anyone or answer any questions. Mrs. Nack has made a full confession—that's all I can say.'"

The story that Mrs. Nack has told and that she will be called upon to repeat to the jury is full of dramatic interest. She has described at great length her life with Goldensuppe in the little flat on Ninth avenue near Thirty-fourth street. She quarreled with him frequently after Thorn appeared upon the scene. Goldensuppe was violent and abusive and to rid themselves of him she and Thorn determined to kill him. She induced him to go to Woodside to inspect a cottage which she had hired. She sent him up stairs alone and when she heard shots she knew that Thorn had carried out his promise.

SCOTLAND FORTUNE.

Bradshaw playfully leveled an umbrella at Phillips just as he was opening his saloon door and the latter fired, the ball crashing through Bradshaw's temple. Phillips and Bradshaw were the warmest of friends.

TIME TO EXPLAIN.

Upon the representations of the representatives of the Grand Army of the Republic, through a committee of which Judge Marsh is chairman, the State Board of Education made a contract with the publishers of "Montgomery's School History" to have some of the grossest errors left out and other statements of fact inserted. When the book was printed and accepted it was found that not half of the corrections promised had been made. The shortcomings were discovered some time ago and caused much indignation at the State Encampment. Thus far the Board of Education has made no public explanation for failure to have its contract carried out. It might be well to make one.—Journal.

A Grandfather Officiates at His Father's Wedding.

A unique feature of the wedding in Logan County, Ky., of J. W. Chandler, aged 78, was that the ceremony was performed by Rev. J. S. Chandler, a son of the groom, who is himself a grandfather. More than three score years ago the contracting parties were school mates and sweethearts, and it is claimed that a lover's quarrel caused a breaking off of the engagement and that each became single, the old love became a strong flame and the marriage resulted. They have lived on adjoining farms since childhood.

On the 7th day of November, 1837, Elijah P. Lovejoy was murdered at Alton, Ill., by a proslavery mob. They had previously destroyed his printing office, then broke up a second press he had purchased, and killed him when he was defending a third one. For many years his grave was unmarked, then a small stone was put up by a friend to mark his resting place and now, on Monday, Nov. 8, 1897, just 60 years after his martyrdom a splendid monument was erected to his memory. Sometimes the world moves slowly, but it moves.—New Albany Tribune.

WERE MASSACRED.

Soldiers, Surrounded by Burning Grass, Shot Down by Tribesmen. SIMLA, Nov. 10.—The report that a native officer and 35 Sikhs, belonging to the Kurram column, had been intercepted by tribesmen in a ravine and slaughtered, is officially confirmed. It appears that they were assisting in a reconnaissance up the Kurram river. Taking a short cut down hill, they came to a ravine where the grass of the jungle was burning. The flames spread so rapidly as to completely cut off their retreat, and the tribesmen, seeing their predicament, swarmed on the higher ground, hurled rocks upon them and closed round the men until the whole lot were shot or cut down. The Sikhs fought heroically until the very last, their officer killing two rebel chiefs with his own hands before he fell.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Farmer Becomes Deranged and Shoots Himself and Wife. PINEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 10.—Andrew Vaughn, a prominent farmer, living on Clear creek in this county, shot himself and his wife. Neighbors passing the house yesterday noticed one about the place and knowing Vaughn had been in ill-health called for him. They were answered by mops from the inside. On going in they found Vaughn's wife weltering in her life blood and Vaughn in a dying condition. Both will die. It is supposed Vaughn became mentally unbalanced, and while in this state shot his wife and then himself.

PLAYING TWO PARTS.

INSTANCES IN WHICH AN ACTOR HAS BEEN TWO MEN AT ONCE.

The "Prisoner of Zenda," "Corsican Brothers" and the "Lyons Mail" are 1 acts in which it is necessary for the star to make these quick changes.

To be able to play two parts in the same piece—to portray, perhaps two characters of totally different caliber—is not an undertaking which many actors care to attempt. It is only the experienced artist who may attempt the feat with impunity, and even then, though he may appear to the audience to achieve his end without an effort, there are many more difficulties in his path than meet the eye of the habitual theater goer.

Not only must the actor be possessed of no small amount of histrionic talent, but he must often call in the aid of an understudy, whose duty it is to gull the onlooker into the belief that their favorite is performing the impossible feat of being in two places at one and the same time. For in nearly every play of such a character it is well nigh impossible for the actor to arrange his piece that he can be on the stage with his double.

Any one who has been to see "The Prisoner of Zenda" performed at the St. James theater, must have marveled at the lightning celerity with which Mr. George Alexander, a moment before the drunken king of Ruritania, suddenly, as by some act of witchcraft, reappeared as Rudolf Rassendyll, clad in the ordinary costume of the English tourist. Then, to every one's surprise, the supine body of the king was carried in so that to all appearances Mr. Alexander was gazing upon his own person. In reality, of course, it was merely a lightning change, and the understudy had to be requisitioned to supply the person of the king.

A more famous case of double impersonation, however, is that of "The Corsican Brothers," the first play perhaps in which Sir Henry Irving gave us a taste of his wonderful talent.

In the first act—to give a slight resume of the play—the ghost of Louis, killed in a duel by a certain Chateau Renaud in the forest of Fontainebleau, appears to Fabien, his brother. The second act takes us to Paris, and through varied incident to the death of Louis. Here Irving was Louis.

In the third act, however, it is Fabien who is once more before us, who has constituted himself the avenger of his brother's death. He meets Chateau Renaud and demands satisfaction. Renaud is worsted and falls to the ground. Then suddenly the ghost of Louis appears, and, to perorate the spirit of the dead man, Irving had had to fly to the wings, make his way below the stage and take his stand upon the trap, which conveyed him upward to the gaze of the thrilled spectators.

How was it done? The audience was amazed. Yet the explanation is comparatively simple: Irving stepped behind a "property" tree. His "double" instantly filled his place, taking good care not to face the audience when it was necessary for him to confront the ghost. Hence the lightning change from mortal to spirit and the resultant bewilderment of the beholders.

Neither is the "Corsican Brothers" the only play in which Irving has contrived to take a double part and yet not plump the audience by the adroitness of his metamorphosis.

Those who are familiar with the "Lyons Mail" will doubtless remember the most telling scene in the play. Here Dubose, the murderer, is in an attic, gazing down upon the preparations being made for the execution of the innocent Lesurques—whose likeness to the real murderer has brought him to such a terrible pass—an expression of horrible grief upon his face, clapping his hands as he sees the apparently doomed man step forward to his death.

But his exultation is premature. Lesurques is relieved, and the crowd suddenly catches sight of the villainous face of the real murderer at the attic window. The door of the room is battered in. Behind it stands Dubose. The wretch is dragged from his refuge, and as they do so Irving-Lesurques coolly walks in upon the scene of turmoil.

The door of the attic is made to open inward, thus shutting Irving Dubose from view of the auditorium. In a moment he slips through a trap. His "double" takes his place, to be hustled unceremoniously by the crowd of "supers," whose duty it is also to conceal the man's face in case the fraud should be discovered. Irving-Lesurques can then come on in his new role.

But an actor has been known to play two parts without the assistance of a dummy.

In a certain play it was the duty of the hero to leap out of the window of his room and to enter from a door on the opposite side of the stage clad in different clothes, though otherwise the same.

This, however, was juggling pure and simple. The actor dropped into his second dress in much the same way as an American fireman is reputed to jump into his uniform. The costume consisted of but one piece with a patent fastening down the back, and as he leaped through the window frame he leaped into his clothes, which, so to speak, shut behind him and left him rehabilitated.

Neither is the part of the understudy one to be given to any ordinary "super" from the mass of warriors, courtiers and the like that go to make up a stage crowd. He must be possessed of no slight amount of adaptability and smartness to enable his principal to go through his arduous task without a hitch.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Students Helped Their Teachers in Practical Work.

During the last century in America the medical education of a young student was generally what he picked up by serving as an apprentice to some noted practitioner, which combined the duties of a student with many menial affairs.

He ground the powders, mixed the pills, rode with the doctor on his rounds, held the basin when the patient was bled, helped to adjust the plasters, sew the wounds and run with vials of medicine from one end of town to the other. It was a white day when such a young man enjoyed the rare good fortune of dissecting a half putrid arm. So great indeed was the difficulty of obtaining anatomical subjects that the medical school of Harvard college made a single body do duty for a whole year.

Under such circumstances the doctor's knowledge was practical, and derived from personal experience rather than from books. The advantages of study were sparingly enjoyed. Few physicians boasted of a library of 50 volumes.

His apprenticeship ended, the student returned to his native town to assume the practice of medicine. At that period, with the exception of the minister and the judge, the doctor was the most important personage in his community. His general face, his engaging manners, the sincerity with which he inquired after the carpenter's daughter and the latest which he took in the family of the poorest laborer made him the favorite for miles around. He knew the names and personal history of the occupants of every house he passed. The farmer's lads pulled off their hats to him and the girls dropped courtesies as he passed. Sunshine and rain, daylight and darkness, were alike to him. He would ride ten miles in the darkest night over the worst of roads in a pelting storm to administer a case of calomel to an old woman or attend a child in a fit.

The drugs were stowed away on the shelves of the village store, among heaps of shoes, ribbon hats, packages of seeds and fitches of bacon.

The physician was compelled to compound his own drugs, make his own tinctures and put up his own prescriptions. His saddlebag was the only drug store within 40 miles. Each spring the blood must be purified, the kidneys excited and the damsel who fainted profusely bled. Large doses of senna and manna and rhubarb and molasses were taken daily. It was safe to say that more medicine was taken every year by the well than is now taken by the sick in the same time.

Water was denied the patient tormented with fever. In its stead was given a small quantity of clam juice. Mercury was taken until the lips turned blue and the gums fell away from the teeth.

The writer has a vivid recollection, when about 8 years old, in a raging fever, pleading for water. The nurse handed the pitcher, and the child satisfied her burning thirst. Her brother, overhearing what was going on, rushed into the room, exclaiming, "You will kill her," but it was too late.—American Magazine.

FIRST WHITE HOUSE BATH.

Van Buren Was Criticized For Introducing the Tub into the Mansion.

In an article on "The Domestic Side of the White House," in "The Ladies' Home Journal," ex-President Harrison gives this interesting view of the home portion of the executive mansion: "Properly speaking," he says, "there are five bedrooms in the executive mansion, though by the use of two dressing rooms and of the end of a short hall that formerly opened to a large north window, but has now been closed up to make a small bedroom, the number may be increased to eight. There are no suitable servants' quarters. Those provided are in the basement, and only those opening to the south are habitable. The north rooms open upon a damp brick arena and are unhealthy. One of the basement rooms, having a southern exposure, is fitted up as a billiard room, but very plainly.

"It is said that provision for a library for the White House was first made during Mr. Fillmore's term. Neat cases are arranged about the room, and most of them are filled with books—old editions of historical and classical works. There is no catalogue, and the library has not been kept up.

"President Adams introduced billiards into the White House, purchasing the first table, balls and cues at a cost of $81, paying for them out of his own pocket. President Van Buren was charged by a political adversary and scathing critic as being the first of our presidents to discover that the pleasures of the warm or tepid bath are the proper accompaniments of a palace life. For it appears that our former presidents were content with the application, when necessary, of the simple shower bath. Mr. Van Buren's critic then refers with high approval to the salutary side of Mr. Adams' heroic habit of bathing in the Potomac 'between daybreak and sunrise.'
